

DIG DEEPER
WEEK 3

INDIA'S CITIES

India is home to many big cities. The largest city in India has 3 million more people than the largest city we have in all of the United States! Let's learn more about these places.

DELHI

Population: 11,034,555

Delhi is the capital of India.

Delhi is the home of Asia's largest spice market, called Khari Baoli. It has been operating since the 1600s!

Delhi is home of the Sulabh International Museum of Toilets!

BANGALORE

Population: 8,443,675

Bangalore is known as the Silicon Valley of India, meaning that there are many technology companies within the city.

Bangalore is the home of India's National Cricket Academy.

Bangalore has the nickname of "Garden City" because of the many green spaces throughout the city.

MUMBAI

Your destination with Kevin and Sam during week 3 of Experience India!

Population: 12,442,373

This city used to have a different name! It was called Bombay until 1995.

The first airport in India was built here in 1928.

Mumbai is the home of Bollywood, India's version of Hollywood!

